"A Tale of Two Lanes" Is Told By State Road 80 Committee

The tale of a two lane road is being told by the Tri-County State Road 80 Committee. The group has compiled the road's history and prospectus to present, in brochure form to legislators, road board members and all who want the facts.

The brochure calls State Road 80, "one of the most hazardous highways in the nation."

"In the past four years 78 people have died and 1,558 have been injured in 2,570 accidents on this narrow, antiquated, two-lane road which is bordered along many miles of its length by deep canals. The death rate on some portions of the road is eight times the national average."

"Yet this road is a main highway between the East and West Coasts of South Florida, from Ft. Myers to the Palm Beaches. It runs through one of the world's richest farmlands, contributing a billion dollars a year in agri-business to the Florida economy."

"Traffic over the road is increasing steadily, and it daily grows more dangerous. More than 35 years old and still in primitive condition, State Road 80 still provides the only direct access from the interior to the coastal cities and it is the principal means of transporting the region's great volumes of agricultural produce to market."

"The need for four-laning and modernizing State Road 80 has become a matter of desperate urgency."

The brochure also tell of the "quiet economic revolution" of the Glades. It also tells of this economic reliance on highways for transporting sugar and vegetables from field to processor. This is a story known well locally. The brochure will publicize it state wide.

The study further states:

"Engineering studies make clear that only by four-laning and modernizing State Road 80 will it be possible to cope with its increasing load of traffic and substantially reduce the accident rate. . . . The money cost of the accidents on State Road 80 in the past four years is estimated at $13 million. Clearly the savings on money losses from accidents alone would be more than sufficient to finance the four-laning of State Road 80 from coast to coast."

Beautification Committee Reorganizes

The Beautification Committee of the Chamber of Commerce held its reorganization meeting Wednesday.

The Committee, although adjourned for the summer, has been active in junk car removal.

"Property owner response, for the most part, has been very good," reports Chairman, Dr. Don Flichts. There were some very discouraging cases, he said, such as the man with about 50 junk autos on vacant lots who didn't want them removed because, he said, "You never know when I might be able to use some of those parts."

Committee members in contacting property owners have arranged for the removal of over 200 cars, Flichts said.

Beautification of the library grounds was also a committee project.

Cheerleaders Ready for First Game

Candidates See Record Attendance

The Jaycee Forum Thursday for City Commission hopefuls had a record attendance of over 100 persons.

In the North Borough race, one candidate, Aubrey Farmer, was absent. Other North Borough candidates are H. Bunn McCall and George C. Young.

Farmer, lever 1A, who was ill, sent a letter saying his four years of service had demonstrated efficient city government. "If decisions I have made as commissioner do not agree with your opinions, I assure you my decisions were not made because of special interest, he said."

The candidates addressed the group in lever number order.

McCall, lever 2A, said, if elected, he would act for the people, not for special interest groups or individuals. As a resident for over 15 years, he said, he knew the problems and people of the community.

"The people," he said, "make it great."

The community is growing, he said, commercially, culturally and educationally and "it is time we had someone on the City Commission who can grow with the town, someone not only with education but with understanding. The compassion I have for people and their problems will enable me to listen to you as an individual."

"I don't believe government agencies should do anything for the people they can do themselves. I am conservative by nature."

McCall said his experience as Vice President and Loan Officer at Everglades Federal Savings and Loan would enable him to better handle the affairs of the city which will have a budget of over $1,700,000.

Young, lever 3A, North Borough, stressed the need for open channels of communication between the people and their government. "I will stand behind you in opening these channels and making them work," he said.

Each individual project, he said, will be studies on its own merits. Young, a Real Estate Broker, said he made a study of the purchase of the United States Sugar Corporation land south of Glade View Elementary school for private investors several years ago and is well aware of the problems involved.

At that time, he said, after development, lots could not have been sold at a reasonable cost. The city purchase of this land for developments and resale for home sites should be carried out by any commission that is elected, he said.

In Central Borough the candidates are incumbent Bill J. Bailey and Jesse D. Lee, III. Bailey, lever 4A, pointed to his four year record on the

State Road 80 Traffic Increased

Road facts are sometimes hard to digest if you are not a civil engineer.

The people of the Glades "feel" that State Road 80 is inadequate for today's transportation needs but very few realize the tremendous increase in use this highway has had over the past 40 years.

W. C. Taylor is one who has kept track of this phenomenal traffic growth. Since 1929 when he first came to the Glades and met three cars on his drive to Bryant from West Palm Beach, Taylor has religiously counted automobiles he meets on the Coast to Glades drive.

Today his average count varies between 150 cars during the summer and 300 cars and over during the peak of the season. On any day while the sugar mills are running, Taylor said, it is not unusual to meet 250 cars in the 40 mile drive.

Taylor said he made these counts in recent years almost three times a week. Returning to the Glades between 4 and 6 p. m. Taylor counts the number of cars he meets during the drive from Highway 7 in West Palm Beach until he reaches Main Street in Belle Glade.

During the middle 1930's, he said, the count varied between 15 to 25 cars.

In the war years of the 1940's the count rose to between 25 and 75 cars met during the drive. During those years, he said, quite a few teachers were commuting, working in the Glades and living on the Coast.

In the 1950's traffic picked up. It was not unusual to meet 100 cars during an afternoon drive to the Glades, he said.

The next traffic jump came in 1963 when the Belle Glade Sugar Cooperative and the Atlantic Sugar Mills opened. During this period Taylor said he made the drive back to the Glades about three times a week. During 1964 he met 200 cars for the first time.

Morning traffic, on trips to the coast, is lighter, he said.

with a top count so far of 178 cars.

"I made these counts primarily to satisfy myself and as a personal gauge to the growth and potential of the community," he said.

"I also became interested in the traffic to Pahokee & every 6th or seventh trip I turn towards Pahokee at Twenty Mile Bend."

The count by this alternate route averages a 30 to 50 car drop, he said.

"Counting traffic on this Glades road," he said "is my personal check of Belle Glade's growth."

Another personal growth check, Taylor said, has been the growth of motels in the area. There used to be just one hotel on Main Street and there are five motels in the immediate area and a room for travelers during the season is still a premium if reservations have not been made. On some winter evenings there have been no rooms available from Canal Point to Clewiston.

Taylor, who now owns the Taylor Funeral Home, came to the Glades to work at Bryant as a cane cutter in 1929. In the 1930's he worked for a funeral home in the Glades and lived in West Palm Beach. He counted cars when he was commuting, he said, to gauge the community's growth and determine if he would move his family to the area. Even since he has moved to the Glades his business still calls for him to make the coastal trip frequently and he continues to count the cars he meets to keep track of increasing interest in the Glades.

McCall Elected Institute Pres.

Before taking office many things had seemed purposely postponed or unduly slow moving, he said. Looking at them from "the other side," he said, one realized that government takes time. Much of the slow workings of city government are planned, Bailey said. For example, ordinances must be read at two meetings before passage to give the public an opportunity to be heard.

Lee, lever 5A, Central Borough, said he has lived in Belle Glade all of his life and believed in the progress of the community. "If elected, I will vote my own conviction and not be a yes man," Lee said.

West Borough candidates are Ray Alston, Davis Kicklighter and "Billy Kigh" Pyfrom. Alston, lever 6A, said "The most outstanding qualification a candidate can have is a genuine desire to serve the community. I have this."

Citizens have been criticized, he said, for their lack of interest in community affairs as evidenced by the lack of attendance at Commission meetings. This is not so, he said. Citizens should elect candidates who they can have faith in to attend to their business and not have to worry about keeping an eye on things by attending every meeting. Alston said he would be the type of commissioner who citizens could trust with the city's business.

The proper meetings for citizens to attend are those in which they have a personal interest, at which time they should present their feelings to the commission, he said. Kicklighter, lever 7A, said if elected he would make Monday a day to work on city business, visiting citizens and working with them for a better community.

Kicklighter said that recent pictures of town eyesores in the Belle Glade Herald were not a solution to the problem, but that "you get more done if you work with the people and solicit their support. I will work to make Belle Glade a better place to live."

Pyfrom, lever 8A, is the only Negro candidate in the race. He is running from the predominantly Negro West Borough.

"I don't know everyone here," he said, "but I do know the Negroes here and those in my district. The people in my district need to know their city commissioner so they can come and talk to him. I am not only interested in the West Borough, but that is where I live and those are the people who I will be elected to represent. If elected, I will be one of five commissioners working for the entire city. But, I will truly represent the West Borough people who have never had representation on the Commission. I am qualified for the position," he said.

Commission in which the Marina, repavement of city streets, the upgrading of street lighting, the new library and a bridge east of Main Street were completed. In addition to those projects which he advocated and have been completed, Bailey said, other such as the water plant expansion and the condemnation of hazardous buildings were underway.

Bailey, who is a Real Estate Broker, said the first two years on the Commission "I didn't do much, but I learned, gaining a working knowledge of city government. When I entered my first race I said I had criticized so much that I wanted to see it from the other side."

Series Of Golf Tournaments Are Being Held At Course

A series of golf tournaments, including father and son tournament, Scotch foursome tournament, and junior boys and girls tournaments, have been held at the Belle Glade Country Club, and more are planned, announced Ken McCall, golf professional.

The tournaments began on August 25 with the junior boys and girls competition. In the girls' division, Shelle Burke took first place with a score of 33 for four holes. Martha Peniterna and Becky Rhodes were runner-ups with scores of 55 for four holes and 33 for three holes, respectively.

In the Boys Club division, Jimmy Winchester was first with an 18 hole score of 94. Stephen Close was runner-up with a 97 for 18 holes. In the first division of the Junior Boys, Sterling Winchester won with a score of 91 for 18 holes, and Lin Gillis was runner-up with 106.

In the Tiny Tot division, Charlie Mathews placed first with a four-hole total of 30. Curt Thompson was second with a four-hole total of 33. Marvin Davis and Woody O'Neal, barely triumphed over their opponents with a five-vote margin each after the thirteen absentee ballots were tallied.

Of the 850 registered voters, 540 including absentees showed up to cast their ballots.

When Davis and O'Neal were elected for the first time, two years ago, almost 80% of the registered voters showed up to cast their ballot, but in Tuesday's election about only 65% showed up.

O'Neal Walker, Mayor-Commissioner Davis' opponent for the second time, was defeated by a vote of 263-258, and the absentee voters favored Davis, 8-4 and Goodbread 7-5. When the absentee ballots came in, O'Neal, who was leading Goodbread by a small margin of seven votes, lost two votes cutting down his lead to five.

Beautification

Beautification Committee will undertake this year to repay the Chamber for the landscaping and all contributions for this project will be appreciated, Fliech said.

The Committee will hold its next meeting at 7:30 a. m. Sept. 20 at the Distans, and elect new officers.

Thomas Coleman of the Lake Shore High Bohemians looks a bit weary after a session of exercises that usually go along with football training. He blows it off by walking in circles as coach Willie Irwin lectures to other boys. Last year the Bohemians won nine games and lost two to two of the top teams in the state, May's High of Gaults and Roosevelt High of West Palm Beach.

This year looks like another banner year for the Bohemians since a large number of their letter men have returned including Charlie Walker who was a standout end last year.

At the Friday meeting of the Belle Glade Rotary Club, Stan Watson, of Watson Ford, presented a film on road racing.

The Civitan Club held a Board meeting in the place of their regular meeting, Tuesday.

The teens chose for their club motto—"To Know Him and to make Him Known." The scripture chosen was John 8:32: "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Meetings will be held each Tuesday night at 7:30 in homes of different young people. Youth for Truth will meet next Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Joanne Royal and officers will be elected.

All Junior High College age young people interested are welcome to attend.

The Walk Of Friendship

By Rev. Stephen L. Cloud

"I thank my God upon every remembrance of you."

Friendship is a jewel that every man cherishes as one of the prize gems of existence. It brings with it the intimate joys of mutual understanding that help make life colorful, interesting and rewarding. Perhaps no one has expressed it more aptly than Johann von Schiller: "You can never replace a friend," he said. "When a man is fortunate enough to have several, he finds that they are all different. No one has a double in friendship." Yes, each one brings something of value into our life.

It is said that visitors to the Florida home of the late Thomas Edison were intrigued by a path in his garden called, "The Walk of Friendship." What made it interesting was the fact that each stone had been contributed by a different individual of the inventor's acquaintance. That memorial path was symbolic. We all walk on stones of helplessness provided by friends!

These earthly relationships are much more blessed, however, when Christ binds such bosom companions together with the cords of His divine love. Spiritual experiences can then be shared, prayers linked, and helpful admonitions from the Word exchanged with mutual profit.

The Philippian converts were Paul's intimates because of their close bonds in the Gospel. With joy and a warm glow in his heart he exclaimed "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you." Those of us who have precious friends in the Lord have echoed the Apostle Paul's sentiments many times.

What kind of a comrade are you? Are you a spiritual help, or a hindrance to those with whom you associate? Do they thank God upon every remembrance of you?

Thank God for you, good friend of mine.

Seldom is friendship such as this; How very much I wish to be as helpful as you've been to me.

Thank God FOR YOU! Some-day I hope with you to stand

And say to you at journey's end, Praise God, you've been to me a friend.

Thank God FOR YOU! "The only way to have a friend is to be one!"

St. Philip's Altar Society will hold its first meeting of the season on Sept. 12 at the Parish Hall at 8 p. m. Mrs. Terry Miller, president, urges all members to attend.

Revival Services Will Begin Sunday At First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Belle Glade announces the beginning of their fall revival with Evangelist James McKeithen and John Fleming, music director, leading.

John Fleming, minister of music at the First Baptist Church, will be leading the revival choir and singing each evening.

Several services have been planned: at 7:30 A. M. Monday through Friday, the teenagers will meet in the social hall for hot chocolate and donuts and a message from Evangelist McKeithen. At 10:00 A. M. Reverend McKeithen will be speaking to those who work in the evening or who, for other reasons, cannot attend the regular evening services.

The regular Evangelistic services will be at 7:30 p. m. each evening, September 10-17.

THE BIBLE WEEKS TO YOU

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE "MAKING THE GRADE IN COLLEGE"

BSWN 900 k. c. Sundays 12:45 p. m.

Wherever I go, thank God, he makes my life a constant pageant of triumph.

—II Corinthians 2:14 (MOFFATT)

In 1957, I faced a new experience—that of teaching in a vocational, church-related junior college. I was a widow, and the students were deeply kind to me and my small daughter. They seemed to realize my task called for maximum spiritual resources.

I shall never forget the inspiration those fine young people gave me. Their general attitude was voiced one day, in discussion, by a young man among them who said, "I know now that I never really lived at all until I became a Christian; the Master gives life its meaning! I want to share life on Christ's terms with others, especially with children and young people. Then, in the future, they will not have to look back upon wasted years of aimless existence."

Recently, I received a message from that former student—himself now a teacher of youth. I can tell from his enthusiastic letter that his radiant life continues to inspire others with compelling force as it witnesses to the conviction, "I never really lived at all until I became a Christian."

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for all Christian homes. Enable the young men and young women who go out from these homes to touch countless other persons with the contagion of their Christian faith. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY Christ's way leads to life.

New Shopping Mall To Open

Florida's newest and largest all enclosed shopping center, PALM BEACH MALL, is becoming a reality.

On October 26th, thousands of people will be able to walk into Florida's largest air-conditioned shopping center, approximately 1,000,000 square feet of floor area to be occupied by 87 stores on an 80-acre site located on Palm Beach Lakes Boulevard (12th Street) and Congress Avenue at 1.95.

The three fine major department stores which include Jordan Marsh, Richard's and J. C. Penney Company lead an array of 80 other variety and fashion shops.

The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation, the nation's leading shopping center owner-developer, will be proud to present this great structure to the Palm Beaches and the entire Gold Coast area.

A developed space age can be found at the PALM BEACH MALL, with its broad, spacious concourses, its beauty of tropical splendor — a complete delight for every shopper.

The Mall's Managing Director

is Irvin J. Silliman. At the top of a long list of names outlined for PALM BEACH MALL by Mr. Silliman is one that might be summarized with the slogan "never a dull moment."

Silliman says "that the operation of the largest merchandising complex in Florida is 'to make PALM BEACH MALL an integral part of the community.' Not only as the center of things that are going on in the community," but also through a broad presentation of civic, cultural and entertainment events.

The Mall is equipped to carry out such programs for several reasons:

In location on Palm Beach Lakes Boulevard (12th St.) adjacent to Interstate 95, the West Palm Beach Auditorium, major sports installations and Palm Beaches and the entire Gold Coast area.

Its vast diversity of merchandise, to be offered by more than 80 retailers in an area comprising nearly 900,000 square feet of shopping space, together with more than adequate and close-in parking for 6,000 vehicles.

Its tens of thousands of square feet of public, air-conditioned court and promenade area, which can double for use as theater, concert hall, fashion shows, town hall meetings, educational exhibits, etc.

Silliman, in outlining a program which would include all of these last named prospective features, said that the date of the mall's opening has been set tentatively for Thursday, October 26.

In order to coordinate the sales efforts of the mall merchants, a major and a minor promotion will be staged each month, Silliman said.

"There will be strong emphasis on fashion shows," the managing director said.

This reflects the fact, he explained, that 55 percent of the stores deal in fashions "and a far greater percentage of space is assigned to fashions."

Fashion shows would revolve around specific fields, such as cruise wear, bridal, children's wear, spring and Easter fashions for the family — including an Easter parade — summer sun fashions, outdoor living, back-to-school and college wear and holiday attire.

"We intend to make the mall a center of fun and fashion," Silliman stated.

Among civic and community related events planned, he added, are sponsorship of cooking, sewing, flower arranging and other features for women and women's club groups.

During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skills they are designated for.

4-H's Are Beautifying Belle Glade Jr. Hi School

The Belle Glade 4-H Club has now begun "beautifying" the new Belle Glade Junior High School by planting shrubs they have grown themselves where shrubbery is sparse.

Last spring the Club members collected cans from the school cafeteria and filled them with sand and mulch. They had air-layered about two hundred plants a month earlier.

To complete the project, the area around the school library, the girls need sunnier cherry, viburnum, jasmine, and red hibiscus. The planting of cuttings and seeds of these plants will be their project next spring.

The members working on the "beautification project" are Renee and Denise Vaughn, Sharon Moore, Alice Lamb, Melinda Chancy, Joanne Corbett, Debbie, Sandy and Teresa Sellers. Friends helping with the planting were Bryon Moore, Don and Benji Sellers.

Gloria Cantwell, and Mr. Tanner, the school custodian. The Club wishes to express special thanks to Norman Beza, County Agriculture Agent, for the donation of a Eureka palm to the project.
